HABIT AND VEIL.

A Beautiful Ceremony Which Took Place at New Orleans.

On Monday, February 28, at the Convent of Mercy, on St. Andrew street, New Orleans, Lat. the beautiful ceremony of giving the habit and veil to five young ladies took place. Archbishop Chapelle of New Orleans performed the ceremony, being assisted by several priests, of whom Rev. Thomas F. Banfield of St. Joseph's church this city, was one, he being spiritual di-rector of one of the young candidates for the religious life—Miss Pansy McDonald. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus McDon-

Miss McDonald is a graduate of the carnate Word Academy of this city and the first young lady who has been called to the religious life from Houston.

Among the numerous friends of the young ladies in attendance and who, with young ladies in attendance and who, with the most reverend archbishop and reverend clergy, were sumptuously entertained by the good sisters, were Mr. and Mrs. Angus McDonald, father and mother; Mr. Edwin McDonald, brother, and Mrs. McDonald of the Fifth ward, aunt of Miss Pansy, who is now bnown as Sister Mary Beatrice.

The Tobacco Industry.

Mr. A. R. Moore, president of the Texas Tobacco Growers' association, says he is glad to note that the citizen committee has begun its labor in the cause of establishing a tobacco ware and packing house in this city. He hopes every business man will take some stock.

"By so doing they are encouraging an enterprise in this section of the State that will relieve the farmers of a great burden heaped upon them by an overproduction of cotton. The farmers are willing and anxious the cotton.

cotton. The farmers are willing and anxious (o iry this new staple as soon as they have an assurance of a market. The profits in a tobacco packing warehouse are usually large.

'There is no investment of $100,000 that brings the same net returns as an enterprise of this kind. Look at the immense fortunes accumulated in a short time by such tobaccomist as Liggett & Myer of St. Louis, Braun, and many others, of the same place. Lorillard Bros. of New York made some Investments in tobacco in Florida last year which paid them 22½ per cent. It is with pleasure that I note that some of Chero's business men offer to take stock and I feel convinced that other counties will respond liberally to this cause, for it will be an incentive to their farmers for them to subscribe for such stock."
